

Sunday Big Day For 2 Spaceships

MANNED SPACE CENTER. Houston, Tex. (AP) — Tiny Gemini 7 with its two cheerful pilots flew flawlessly through space today, poised for man's most ambitious space venture — a daring rendezvous with an orbiting sister ship.

Beard, slightly hoarse and good-natured, Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman and Navy Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr. hurtled past the midpoint of their 14-day flight about 11:15 a.m. EST.

Gemini 7 entered its 98th orbit at 1:43 a.m. Sunday is the big day. Gemini 7 breaks the world's space endurance record, and the United States makes its adventurous attempt to have two spacecraft rendezvous and fly formation in space, perhaps only inches apart.

Nothing appeared to stand in the way of a 9:54 a.m. blastoff of Gemini 6 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Sunday.

Launch teams busily readied the mighty Titan 2 rocket that will boost astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., a Navy captain, and Thomas P. Stafford, an Air Force major, onto a 100,000-mile chase after Gemini 7. Enough fuel to bail out 430,000 pounds of thrust will be pumped into the towering launch vehicle tonight.

The Gemini 6 spacehunters, mission control and the world-wide tracking network practiced until late Friday night orbital maneuvers that will carry Schirra and Stafford nose to nose with the Gemini 7 crew.

Dubbed "The Spirit of '76," the dual flight casts a plot of the hunter and the hunted, with Gemini 6 stalking space in search of Gemini 7 riding a circular path around the globe 185 miles high.

Noses Get Dry. Hopefully, at 3:26 p.m., there'll arrive the big moment of meeting, some fond waves between the two teams of astronauts, a picture taking session, and then the formation flight. Some 6½ hours later the two crews go their separate ways, with Gemini 6 possibly returning to earth the next morning.

Command pilot Borman enjoyed the eve of the big day by riding through space in the comfort of his longjohn underwear, a luxury previously afforded his pilot for slightly more than three days.

Nasal stuffiness suffered by both astronauts in the 100 percent oxygen atmosphere they breathe seemed to be worse, Dr. Charles Berry, the flight's medical director, said.

"It appeared to be worse in Jim than in Frank," he noted. So Berry prescribed a lotion carried aboard the craft to relieve the dryness in their noses.

However, the astronauts' doctor said he did not see anything medically, including the nasal congestion, that would prevent Borman and Lovell from completing their 14-day flight.

Come 1:26 p.m. Sunday, the space twins will be the world champions of space flight. At that time Borman and Lovell will break the 190 hours, 55 minutes manned-space flight record of the Gemini 5 astronauts, Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr.

Splashdown for Gemini 7 is scheduled after 329 hours, 30 minutes in space Dec. 18.

Record numbers of winter sports enthusiasts stopped for information at tourist council booths in Chicago and Cleveland, said William McGraw, council director.

"This interest, coupled with early returns from our advertising and publicity programs, indicates continued high interest in Michigan as a winter vacation state," McGraw said.

"It appears the only thing that would prevent a record season is a lack of good snow conditions, and that seems highly unlikely."

The council predicted some 250,000 persons will make one or more trips to Michigan winter sports centers this year, spending about $28 million.

Winter Travel Boom Foreseen. LANSING (AP) — Michigan appears headed for another record winter vacation travel season, says the State Tourist Council.

Records of winter sports enthusiasts stopped for information at tourist council booths in Chicago and Cleveland, said William McGraw, council director.

Holdup Victim Deputy Dies. BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A Berrien County sheriff's deputy who was shot while trying to block a Benton Harbor bank robbery died Friday.

Elton Stover, 35, was wounded Dec. 3 when he and Deputy Gary Mitchell were cut down by two gunmen in the suburban Fairplains Plaza branch of Farmers & Merchants National Bank. Mitchell is recovering from his wound.

Following Stover's death, first degree murder warrants were filed by the Berrien County prosecutor's office against Roy Bowen, 41, and Noti Perez, 43, both of Chicago. Arraigned at the Berrien County Jail late Friday, Perez and Bowen demanded examination which was set for Dec. 21.

They already were held under bonds of $45,000 each to await Berrien County Circuit Court arraignment on charges of assault with intent to commit murder, armed robbery and bank robbery. The bank was robbed of $25,694.

Prosecutor John Hammond notified the U.S. attorney's office in Grand Rapids of the deputy's death and filing of murder charges.

The defendants were captured shortly after the holdup at an Indiana State Police roadblock. Officers said they recovered $25,694 cash, plus a quantity of guns.

Norman Philleo, Veteran Clerk Of House Resigns. LANSING (AP) — The House Thursday accepted the resignation of Norman Philleo, its clerk for the past 21 years, and conferred on him "the unique title, rights and privileges of clerk emeritus."

Philleo, who has been on the House staff since 1928, retired Dec. 31. He is succeeded by Thomas Thatcher of Muskegon, who held the clerk's position once before—when Democrats controlled the House, 1937-38.

Civilian Programs May Be Cut For War Buildup

Boxes Packed For Michigan Men In Vietnam

DETROIT (AP) — An assembly line of good cheer for Michigan GIs in Viet Nam neared its final production quota today.

Packing the last of 7,436 Christmas boxes filled with a wide assortment of goods is expected to be completed sometime this afternoon, after which they will be loaded aboard a chartered plane and flown to Viet Nam.

Among the items the recipients will find when they open the packages are aspirin, paperback books, cereal, soft drinks, fruit cakes, razor blades, apple juice and gum.

"At the beginning, when the governor asked me to head this, we figured on about 4,000 packages," said Richard Headlee, 35, the father of eight.

"But three days after we asked people to send in the names and addresses of Michigan men in Viet Nam we had 2,000 names. And we had 4,000 names two days after that."

"Now they tell me they have 7,436 men on the list."

The idea to send Christmas boxes developed after Gov. George Romney returned from a recent visit to Viet Nam.

Headlee said the Defense Department refused to give out the names of Michigan servicemen in Viet Nam and wouldn't even say how many Michigan men were there.

"They said it was a matter of military privacy," Headlee recalled. We are the only state, as far as I know, that is sending packages to its men by name.

"When they wouldn't give us the names, the governor was wavering about it all. But I said I've gone down the tube so many times with bad ideas and heck, this was a good idea."

"So we asked the people of Michigan to send us the names and addresses of the men in Viet Nam, and they started to pour in."

The packages are being stuffed by employees from the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

"I don't have anyone from my family in Viet Nam, but I had a son in the 7th Fleet for four years, and I know how he felt when he was away," said Mrs. Margaretta Frobe, an MESC worker.

"Did you see those letters in the paper the other day from a couple of boys asking the people of Michigan to write them letters?" she asked.

"That's a heckuva note when they have to ask for letters when they're over there."

Headlee said about 400 names were received too late to make the plane shipment, "but I expect we'll send something to those men by regular mail later."

He added: "I think Michigan can be very proud. It's exciting to think that, in this day and age when folks say people don't care, business and labor and the trucking industry and the communications media will get together and produce something like this."

Scene Of Riot To Have Parade

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Watts—hub of bloody riots last August and object of a sober post mortem ever since—is throwing itself a Christmas parade. Its theme, in a community that is known nightmare, is "A Child's Dream."

Today, with flags flying, bands blaring and spangled beauties waving to the crowd, the parade will parallel some of the worst ruins from the incredibly devastating riot that claimed 34 lives and cost $40 million in property destruction and damage.

At first blush, the parade might seem a brassy mockery to its grim surroundings.

Not so, say its planners. "Of all years, this is the year to have a parade," says Mrs. Edna Aliewine, chairman of Watts' new Community Beautiful volunteer group.

"There are still the children," she says, "and this parade is to show them there is still something good here, some reason for hope and for pride in Watts."

Somehow, in an area that now is symbolic of poverty, bitterness and defeat, the idea went over big.

More than 130 entrants—most of them Negro—volunteered to foot the bills for their own costumes, floats or what-not.

New Contract Ends Strike At Wyandotte Corp.

WYANDOTTE (AP) — Members of Local 7-626 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union late Friday approved a new contract with Wyandotte Chemicals Corp., ending a more than seven-month strike.

The vote was 811-189. The first workers are expected back on their jobs at midnight Sunday, a company spokesman said, with return to full operation expected within a few days.

The union struck May 4. Terms of the new contract, due to run until Sept. 1, 1967, are similar to ones recommended seven weeks ago by federal and state mediators, the spokesman said.

Trio Acquitted; Selma Faced By New Strife

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The acquittal of three white men charged with the civil rights killing of a white Boston minister left Selma faced today with the threat of renewed racial strife.

A spokesman for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said the verdicts returned by an all-white jury after 95 minutes deliberation Friday probably will touch off an increase in demonstrations, "especially in Selma."

"The (Negro) people of Selma are pretty upset about this," the Rev. Andrew Young, executive secretary of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said in Atlanta.

"It just means that any Negro or civil rights worker can be killed a block away from the heart of town, and those responsible for it probably will be acquitted."

The Rev. James J. Reeb, a 38-year-old Unitarian minister and father of four children, was waylaid along with two other white clergymen the night of last March 9 on a street corner one block from Selma's main thoroughfare, Broad Street.

The Boston clergymen, who had come to Alabama to join the struggle for Negro voting rights, was clubbed to the ground, and died two days later in a Birmingham hospital with a massive brain injury. His companions also were roughed up by a gang of white men but escaped with slight injury.

Charged with first-degree murder were a 42-year-old novelty company manager, Elmer L. Cook; an auto mechanic, Namon O'Neal Hoggie, 31, and his brother, William Stanley Hoggie, 37, a salesman.

Spectators in the crowded wood-paneled courtroom clapped hands and shouted when the trial jury returned the three verdicts — one for each defendant.

VANDERBILT (AP)—Michigan's elk hunters continued to rack up a higher than expected kill as 137 elk were reported shot at the end of the third day of the season Friday.

Conservation Department game experts had predicted that only 100 animals would be taken this year by the 300 license holders. There were 269 elk killed last year.

The forecast proved wrong when the nimrods hit the even 100 mark on the elk take at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The department game experts now are upping their estimates of this year's take to 200.

A light snowfall was reported in the Pigeon River State Forest area, indicating good tracking for hunters.

Hunters reportedly had to range far into the woods, however, to find the elk, by now gunshy and hiding.

Rhodesia Calm; Santa Arrives

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's white minority government declared independence from Britain a month ago today. The only difference the man in the Salisbury street has noticed is that Christmas decorations have gone up.

All the talk of African politicians about marching on the Zambezi River and seizing the Kariba Dam power station has kicked up hardly a ripple here. Soldiers are a rare sight in Salisbury and policemen roll by placidly in squad cars as before.

A huge tableau of Santa Claus and his reindeer has been fixed to a building on Jameson Avenue and Santa seems as merry as ever. Colored lights have been strung along First Street and the stores are bespangled to the ceilings.

There has been no rattling of muskets, no bands playing. The Union Jack still flies above many buildings.

It may be that no rebellion in history has caused less stir among the rebels and created more agitation abroad.

Humphreys Will Travel Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey hinted this week that she and the vice president may be making some overseas trips before long.

Speaking Thursday to a group of Foreign Service wives about to go overseas with their husbands, she said, "I have a feeling we will be calling on you before too long."

When asked by reporters to elaborate, though, Mrs. Humphrey denied any knowledge of foreign travel plans, adding, "Oh, I guess I shouldn't have said anything."

Johnson Warns Communists Of U.S. Objective

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has launched an effort to convince the Communists he is willing to curb new "Great Society" programs to finance the war in Viet Nam.

This was a followup to Johnson's public warning Thursday that he will order "other hard steps" in Viet Nam if all prospects for peace prove futile.

Hanoi, Peking and Moscow, however, were not the only targets of disclosures Friday that civilian programs — even those Johnson pushed through Congress this year — will be curtailed because of spiraling costs of the Viet Nam war.

Spending Plans Trimmed. Obviously, Johnson wanted American voters — and the Congress members who voted for the new programs — to be prepared for emergency curtailments should peace appeals fail.

A procession of top officials parade before newsmen at White House press headquarters here, after conferring with Johnson at his ranch home. All either said their spending plans were being cut below current levels or, at best, that they couldn't say or were fighting to preserve their programs.

In this administration, officers of Cabinet level do not normally volunteer such revelations without a presidential okay. And when the chief executive gives such authorization more than a month before the new budget goes to Congress, he has a motive.

The clear meaning was that Johnson wants everyone to know — here and in the Communist capitals — that the United States means business in Viet Nam.

Bombers Authorized. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, perhaps significantly, announced the only big budget authorization disclosed during the day: plans for a long-range $1.75-billion program to replace aging B52 and B-70 bombers by 1971 with a new FB111—a modified version of the controversial TFX fighter plane. Then came other officials, several hours later.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor announced his department's budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 would fall short of the current level of more than $1.2 billion.

"It is quite clear," he said, "that although there will be reductions in many of the civilian programs, particularly some of the newer ones that were voted by Congress during the past year, we still will be able to get them off to a good start and continue our programs at a healthy level."

Total 107 Billion? But he also said it was evident that some of them — and he specifically mentioned the Johnson-sponsored Appalachia and economic development programs — "will be phased out so that it will take longer to achieve the results than we thought would be the case earlier in the year."

Connor was asked if Viet Nam was the reason for the belt-tightening. He said he didn't discuss this with Johnson but "I'm sure it was in his mind."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman followed Connor to the podium and said his budget, currently programmed at nearly $6.9 billion, will be "significantly less" next year — "quite a bit less."

Sources close to Johnson have said spending in the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, will run to $105 billion to $107 billion — compared with a January estimate of $99.7 billion. The increase is mainly due to Viet Nam.

Fleet Of 210 Fast Bombers Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plan to wave a $1.75-billion wand and change F111 fighters into FB111 strategic bombers, intended to comprise a 210-plane fleet by 1971, actually will be only a variant of the F111 all-purpose tactical fighters now in production for the Navy and Air Force.

But the defense boss told newsmen they would be able to fly to a target twice as fast and with about the same range as the latest models of the eight-jet, subsonic B52s which they will replace.

He said the FB111 will be able to carry a load of 50 conventional bombs, each weighing 750 pounds — about the same as B52s now carry — or deliver nuclear weapons. But it will have "greater penetrating ability and military effectiveness," he said.

In talking at a Texas news conference following a meeting Friday between Johnson, himself and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, McNamara had a retort for some senators and others who criticized the announcement earlier in the week of a cutback in bases, with corresponding reduction in the number of B52s. "They spoke much too soon."

The program which he said Johnson approved at the meeting shows "no plans to eliminate strategic bombers from the force," McNamara declared.

With the 210 FB111s and 225

B52s still to be in the Strategic Air Command by the end of the decade, he said, there will be a force of 565. Present strength is about 680, including 80 of the smaller but faster B58s which are to be dropped along with the earlier models of the B52.

The first of the FB111s is expected to be in the operating fleet in 1968, the rest by 1971. They are to be produced by the Fort Worth, Tex., division of General Dynamics Corp., which is also manufacturing the F111 fighter, formerly known as the TFX.

McNamara said that the $1.75 billion to be spent for production of the FB111s, together with operating costs, will be less than the cost of changing the earlier models of the B52s.

Venison Costs $20 A Pound

HOUGHTON — If Whitetail deer knew they were worth as much as $200 each to a hunter, perhaps they would be more appreciative of the efforts thousands of hunters make each year to bag them.

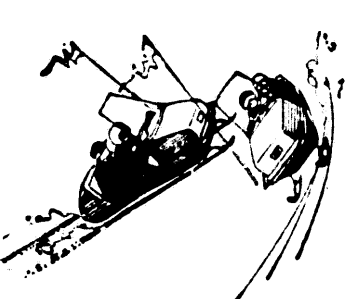

Thirty-seven statistical-minded forestry students at Michigan Tech recorded some interesting details on their hunt this year.

On an average, each one drove 12.58 miles per trip, walked 2.71 miles per hunting day, and saw 3.42 deer per day. These deer were 27 per cent does, 18 percent bucks (including spikebucks), 32 per cent fawns, and 23 per cent unidentified.

The foresters fired an average of 0.36 rounds per hunting day at deer, there were 0.07 deer taken per hunter and each hunter had only a 21 per cent chance of recovering a deer if it was hit.

When all costs for hunting were tallied—including weapon depreciation and ammunition—the foresters determined that the average hunter spends $15.33 per year. But since there were only .07 deer taken per hunter this puts the average cost per deer at $219. The foresters also calculated that they spent about $4.48 to see a deer, about $44 just to shoot at one, and that each deer cost close to $20 per pound—and that's expensive meat.

Blaney Prospect Rated Promising

Stewart E. Earl of Hermansville, owner of big Blaney Park Resort, which he has announced will not open for the 1966 season under his ownership, today said that negotiations for sale of the 21,700 acre property and its complex of resort buildings and facilities are "promising."

Blaney Park is the Upper Peninsula's greatest venture in resort development and its fate, as it passes from Earl's operation, is of great interest to the state's developers of recreation business, which is one of Michigan's greatest industries and a chief hope of the Upper Peninsula for economic growth.

Stewart Earl had offered the big resort property to the State of Michigan for a boys training school, but after several visits tions by state legislators and educational officials the project failed to develop sufficient support and Earl turned to other persons interested in acquiring Blaney Park in Schoolcraft County. He will retain the 11,000-acre Simmons Woods nearby in Mackinac County.

Earl set forth the reasons for offering Blaney in a letter to James H. Hall, manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association:

"First, the most vicious of all taxes, the inheritance tax. An individual cannot afford to expand, as one grows older, or own a large proportion of fixed assets which cannot be readily liquidated, and this danger increases in the same ratio as the age of the individual.

"Second, local taxing authorities are not always realistic.

"Third, other factors include: The trailer camping trend with state and federal competition. Air conditioning and new drugs have brought relief to the hay fever sufferers. Jet planes and rapid travel to Europe. The desire of people to be on the go and see more country with the increase of good roads. The great number of motels and eating places built since the building of the Mackinac Bridge.

"The increased regimentation by the state and federal governments requiring more bookkeeping, reports, etc. The attitude of young people today on employment. With all these changes and increasing cost, the ability to operate at a profit and still satisfy the increasing demand of the traveling public.

"It has been my sincere desire to see this property in the hands of an organization whereby its usefulness might be continued and that it might become an asset to mankind in general."

Pines Planted On State's Forests

A total of 717,000 pines were planted on 830 acres in four state forests of the Upper Peninsula in the fall, according to the Michigan Department of Conservation: 170,000 red pine on 258 acres in the Michigan State Forest; 25,000 jack pine on 36 acres in the Tahquamenon River State Forest; 98,000 red pine on the 122 acres in the Grand Sable State Forest and 161,000 red pine on 161 acres in the Manistiquie State Forest. Plantings of 180,000 red pine are scheduled for the Iron Range State Forest next spring.

THE ROTARY CLUB of Escanaba will hear Leon F. "Monty" Montague, past officer of Rotary International, in a film recording "Turned Out to Grass" at its meeting Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington. Montague has received numerous honors and his talk, "Turned Out to Grass" has been heard on radio, television, and by more than 100,000 business and professional leaders in America.

Air Base Gives Fund $21,589.27

K. I. SAWYER AFB—Members of the organizational maintenance squadron contributed $483 minutes before the close of the United Fund drive to push Sawyer over the top and give the base a total of $21,589.27 collected during the drive.

Ten Strategic Air Command squadrons and two tenant units exceeded their individual fund goals.

This year's drive resulted in giving over 150 per cent of what was contributed last year. This represents over $7,000 more than the 1964 campaign. The accomplishment not only vastly surpasses last year, but is greater than any year in the history of K. I. Sawyer.

At the U. P.'s United Fund achievement celebration Wednesday, Col. Robert Hansen, base commander, presented checks to Jack Miller, U. P. United Fund representative, for distribution to the 10 agencies which will benefit from the drive.

John Carlson To Retire From Highway Dept.

John L. Carlson, 2010 5th Ave. S., will retire Dec. 31 after 13 years of service with the Department of State Highways.

Carlson, assistant district right-of-way agent in the Escanaba office of the Department, is a native of Felch, and in the 1930's was supervisor of Felch Township and chairman of the Dickinson County Board of Supervisors.

Following service in World War I as a seaman, Carlson was a woods cruiser and surveyor and later operated gas and oil and real estate businesses. He joined the Department after service as an appraiser for the State Tax Commission.

Deer Harvest Down 32,000

LANSING—Michigan's 1965 firearm deer season, which from all signs fielded more hunters than ever before, produced an estimated total harvest of 108,350 whitetails, according to the Conservation Department.

The average annual bag over the past several years has been about 100,000.

This season's preliminary kill figure, still to be compared for accuracy against a later postcard survey of hunter success, is down about 32,000 animals from last year when the state's deer harvest was the second best on record.

On the basis of hunter numbers, the individual success rate took a sharper drop. With a good possibility that there were at least 600,000 hunters this fall—some 40,000 more than a year ago—about one of every six sportsmen got what he was aiming for.

In 1964, about one of every four hunters was successful.

Results of the Department's exhaustive traffic survey, exactly patterned after fact-finding work of other years as the basis for making kill estimates, point to a harvest this season of 62,700 bucks and 45,650 antlerless deer, including animals with sublegal spikes.

The buck total falls nearly 24,000 short of last year's take, which was the best since 1946, but it compares closely with the average for recent seasons. Antlerless kill took a smaller drop, slipping below the 1964 figure of 54,420.

A regional look at the Department's estimates shows hunters in the northern two-thirds of Michigan had less luck than a year ago, while sportsmen in the southern farmbelt set a new record in buck kill for the fifth straight season.

In the Upper Peninsula, the breakdown on hunter take includes 17,000 bucks and 11,600 antlerless animals for an overall comedown of about 9,000 whitetails from last season.

Mrs. Packenham Dies In Hospital; Services Tuesday

Mrs. Bessie H. Packenham, 67, 1015 8th Ave. S., died at 12:10 a.m. today at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient for the past 18 days.

Mrs. Packenham was born in LaCrosse, Wis., Dec. 31, 1897. She had been a resident of Escanaba for the past 44 years.

Her husband, Edward, died Aug. 28, 1959. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and of the Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Mose (Betty Jean) Lemerand and Mrs. Walter (Patricia) Russell of Escanaba, Mrs. Lial (Lucille) Clauson of Riverview, Fla., and Mrs. Edwin (LaVerne) Ettenhofer Sr., of Rte. 1, Escanaba; five grandchildren and two great grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Keppel of LaCrosse, Wis., Mrs. Edwin Olson of Virginia, Minn., and Mrs. Hazel Helliwell of Chicago, and two brothers Willis Jones, Park Ridge, Ill., and Clyde Jones of Chicago.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Monday. Eastern Star memorial services will be conducted at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday from the funeral home with Rev. D. Douglas Seelen officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Escanaba Men Held For Trial In Marinette

Two Escanaba men are held in the Marinette County jail under $5,000 bond each for their trial on a charge of armed robbery in connection with the holdup of a Marinette gas station on Dec. 3.

They are Ronald F. Richer, 24, of 632 N. 19th St., and John R. Valiquette, 20, of 1331 1st Ave. N.

They were arrested by Escanaba police on Monday, Dec. 6, in the investigation of the theft of a car in Escanaba used in the holdup at Marinette.

The men were taken to Marinette Thursday evening, were arraigned and waived examination to the charge of robbery armed on Friday, and are held in the Marinette jail for trial in default of bond.

Palzewicz Baby Taken By Death

Joseph Roland Palzewicz, infant son of Roland and Marilyn Palzewicz, died early today at St. Francis Hospital. He was born Dec. 6.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Daniel, Randall and Todd, all at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palzewicz of Stephenson; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Parrett, also of Stephenson, and his maternal great grandmother, Mrs. Nora Buckmaster of DeWitt, Mich.

Graveside services will be held at Holy Cross Cemetery at 4 p.m. today with Fr. Arnold Thompson officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Babyland.

State Needs More Trees To Supply Market

EAST LANSING — More than half of Michigan's land area is in forests. Yet, a Michigan State University forester says Michigan needs to plant more trees. In fact, only half enough are being planted.

Lester Bell of MSU's Cooperative Extension Service explains that the vast forested area does not have enough usable species of marketable trees. Many acres need to be planted to the proper species with the proper spacing fully utilize the land.

He points out that it takes 30 to 35 years to grow pulpwood and 60 to 75 to grow saw logs. "The trees we plant today are for the future market and I feel certain there will be a tremendous demand for wood in the future," Bell predicts.

Michigan is planting about 50 to 55 million trees a year. But the forester thinks we should be doubling this number. This will enable more intensive use of our lands and prepare for future demands of a larger population which will use more wood per capita.

Longest Night

The Northern Hemisphere officially welcomes winter on Dec. 21 at 8:41 p.m. EST. That will be the moment of the winter solstice, when the sun has reached the end of its southward movement across the sky, and the nights are longest and darkest. From the solstice on, the sun will drift slowly back north, gradually lengthening the days.

Pack 411 Plans Program Sunday

Cub Pack 411, sponsored by the Jefferson PTA, will hold its Christmas program at 7 p.m. Sunday at the school.

Included in the program will be an advancement ceremony. Cubmaster Russell H. Willard said the pack will display tree decorations made during the month for presentation to the Bishop Noel Home and parents will be given presents their boys have made.

Social Security Signup For Health Aids Pushed

Working against a deadline 4 months away, the Social Security Administration is signing up the men and women now 65 and older who want the protection of the voluntary medical insurance part of the medicare program.

Those who wait until after March 31, 1966, says Arnold T. Williams, Escanaba social security district manager, may have the basic hospital insurance, but will have to wait two years for another chance to sign up for the supplementary medical insurance. They will also have to pay higher premiums for late enrollment. The supplementary medical insurance covers doctor bills and a wide variety of other medical expenses.

The Social Security Administration has worked out ways of getting medical insurance enrollment cards and information about the total medicare program into the hands of about 96 per cent of the 19 million eligible older people.

To reach the other 4 per cent, many of them very elderly people who are housebound or living in remote areas, the agency is undertaking an intensive nationwide informational program, backed up by a number of special projects.

All Over 65

The medicare program provides paid-up hospital insurance for persons 65 and over. In addition, it includes the supplementary medical insurance for the older person at $3 a month — one half the cost of the protection provided. The other half is paid out of general government funds.

About 15.2 million older people, those on the social security and railroad retirement benefit rolls, received medicare information and a medical insurance enrollment card, through the mails between Sept. 1 and Oct. 15. So far, 9 million have returned their enrollment cards and 9 out of 10 of them have signed up for the supplementary protection.

The Social Security Administration has compiled a list of another 1.2 million people over 65 who have not yet applied for monthly cash social security benefits (generally because they are still working full time), and they are being reached through the mail beginning this week. The simplified card form mailed to this group will serve as both an enrollment card for medical insurance and an application for cash benefits. Some may find that they can collect some cash benefits, even though they continue to work.

Needn't Retire

Many people think they have to retire completely in order to collect any social security benefits. This is not true. Cited as an example is a person entitled to a social security benefit of $90 a month who can earn up to $2,500 working in all months of 1966 and still collect some social security benefits. Under a change in the law that goes into effect beginning in 1966, the worker in this case would be able to earn about $3,100 and still get some of his social security benefits.

Another recent change in the law provides for the automatic refiguring of an older worker's benefit rate to take account of his earnings after he first applies. Also, medicare benefits are payable whether or not an older person continues to work and regardless of the amount of his earnings. Thus, there is no reason, Williams said, for a person 65 or over to delay his application for any social security benefits, including medicare, to which he may be entitled.

Joint Project

In addition to mailing of application cards to persons who are still working, the Social Security Administration has undertaken a joint project, through the Welfare Administration, with state welfare departments to reach 1.1 million people 65 and older who are getting public assistance payments. The welfare departments will inform their aged clients about their hospital insurance protection and will also tell them how their state welfare programs may help them pay for the voluntary medical insurance. Some states are planning to "buy in" for their public assistance recipients; other states may add the $3 premium payment to the regular assistance allowance.

Through the Civil Service Commission, the Social Security Administration expects to reach by mail about 300,000 federal civil service annuitants who are eligible for one or both parts of the medicare protection, to tell them how they will be affected and what action they need to take.

Similar projects are being undertaken with many state and local government retirement systems. There will also be special mailings to homes for the aged and nursing homes which will be followed up with visits by social security representatives.

Barbershoppers To Begin Busy Caroling Season

The Escanaba Barbershoppers will sing Christmas carols in the business districts of both Escanaba and Gladstone as part of a busy round of holiday singing scheduled before Christmas.

Their schedule also includes appearances at Christmas parties and at area nursing homes.

The group will sing on Ludington Street in Escanaba Tuesday night, Dec. 21, after appearances at the Delta Nursing Home and the Bishop Noa home. Caroling on Delta Ave. and the Gladstone business district is planned for Thursday night, 23.

Tuesday three programs are scheduled, at 7:30 p.m. for the Exchange Club at the House of Ludington, at 8:15 p.m. for St. Anne's Holy Name Society and at 9 p.m. for Elks Club women.

The Barbershoppers also will sing Saturday, Dec. 18, for the Mead Corp. Christmas party at the Terrace.

Tuesday, Dec. 21, the group will meet at 6:45 p.m. at the Delta Convalescent Home, followed immediately with caroling at the Bishop Noa home and Ludington St. in Escanaba.

Thursday, Dec. 23, the Barbershoppers will meet at the Johnson Bros. Oil Co. in Gladstone for appearances at the Sloan Nursing Home, Pine Haven Nursing Home, Oja Rest Haven and the Gladstone business district.

BELLS ARE RINGING a happy holiday tune at the Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer booth at Ludington and 11th Sts., where members of the community's service clubs are taking turns inviting contributions. ## Ore Shipping Season Ending

The Chicago & North Western Railway has one week and two boats to go before the close of the 1965 ore shipping season at Escanaba, it is reported by L. A. McMillan, dock agent.

For the first time in a busy year the docks are closed for the weekend. Crews will report back to work on Monday in preparation for loading the carrier Falk of the Hanna line, due to arrive on Wednesday.

Last boat of the season will be the George M. Humphrey, also of the Hanna line, which is scheduled to arrive at Escanaba on Saturday, Dec. 18.

The total ore shipments from Escanaba is expected to reach 6,000,000 tons, somewhat below last year's 6,400,000. The 1964 season closed on Dec. 18 also.

Inland Steel's largest ore carrier, the Edward L. Ryerson, loaded 24,767 net tons of iron ore pellets at Escanaba on this week and docked at Indiana Harbor on Thursday. She will keep the pellet ore aboard all winter.

Only pellet ore is being handled at Escanaba as the shipping season draws to a close. Pellet ore is dry and unlike raw ore — does not freeze in the cars or in the dock pockets, thus making it easier handling when cold weather comes.

CAUTION ON SPRAY NEW YORK (UPI) — That spray for foiling an attacker may be your undoing, the Greater New York Safety Council cautions.

A wind may blow the spray back into your own face and eyes. Also, the council suggests you check to see if use of such device is legal in your area. Carrying the spray is not illegal in New York City, for example. But using it is.

DeGaulle Is Bumped

Charles DeGaulle didn't get 50 per cent of the vote in France's recent presidential election and so he must enter a run-off election with No. 2 man Francois Mitterrand.

The rebuff to DeGaulle by the French voters was historic, so much so that there was some speculation that he might withdraw from the contest in a huff. But he didn't; he'll run. He only got about 44 per cent of the vote in the primary and he's expected to get about 60 per cent in the run-off.

France of today is the image of DeGaulle. He has been president for 7 years and is seeking another 7 year term at the age of 75. He has had the government of France tailored to his dimensions. The French constitution provides for a strong president (DeGaulle) and a rubber stamp national assembly. With a lesser man as president, France's government would be in trouble and with DeGaulle in office France has solved some old problems and created some new ones.

He came out of World War II as the personal symbol of Free France. This unbending man, who was described in his young officer days as behaving "like a king in exile" is no longer in exile and his trips into the French provinces are like royal processions and have been described as "Good King Charles among his people."

But this is the man who gave troubled France a stable government and who ended the Algerian War, which was bleeding the nation white. His success in separating Algeria from France without a civil war was an enormous nation-saving achievement.

But it is this same Charles DeGaulle who is now hobbling the European Common Market which has done so much to invigorate the French economy, and who is making such mischief in NATO, the western European defense alliance which is anchored on France.

DeGaulle has bypassed and undercut his cabinet with a shadow government of his own personal advisors, just as he has reduced the assembly to impotency. He has catered ("pandered" many critics say) to French nationalism and created a French nuclear force which may nourish French national pride, but which does not make a realistic contribution to free world defense like France's support of NATO could.

DeGaulle hasn't broken with the Common Market or NATO, but he has so weakened them that if he lives and persists in his present policies the prospect of a united Western Europe is very sick.

West Germany's people are more prosperous than the French, but DeGaulle doesn't regard this as important as France's independence of other nations, and he can cite that French workers have had it better under him than they did before him.

The decline of democratic government in France under DeGaulle was inevitable. He believes in a government of personalities and that results are what count. French commentators don't agree about Charles DeGaulle's intentions, but they tend to agree that his performances aren't apt to have staying power.

Russia wants to get rid of NATO even more than does Charles DeGaulle. Why would he play that game?

He is enormously concerned with history's judgment on him. Historians today think their successors will credit him with uniting France in a period of difficulties and then leading her to peace and plenty and on to strong-armed acceptance of his personal foibles. Frenchmen are beginning to resist. It showed strongly in the election.

Hard Facts Noted

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The protesters against U. S. South Viet Nam. But 12 days policy in Viet Nam, having before first announcement of marked again, are learning of once more that the country pays attention to their exhibitions but not to their arguments.

When you get past the pure pacifists and those who would want the United States to lose any war to the Communists, you find always this one core idea in the objectors' arguments:

The South Vietnamese people are engaged in a civil war a popular uprising, against the Saigon government and we are "immorally" intervening to try to block this "revolution."

There are many reasons why most Americans decline to take this notion seriously. Some of them:

• The protesters' contention ignores the fact that the war in South Viet Nam was begun by elite, hard-core Communist guerrillas "left over" from the French-Indochina war, who acted on signal from Hanoi in 1957 and used weapons hidden at the close of that earlier war three years before.

• Hanoi gave quick notice that the signal would be forthcoming, announcing publicly in the immediate aftermath of the 1954 Geneva Accords that the Reds would not rest until all Viet Nam was under Hanoi management.

• The careful historians of Viet Nam indicate that at least two full divisional staffs of North Vietnamese regulars were infiltrated south in the years of 1959 to 1963, to co-ordinate and guide Viet Cong guerrilla operations.

• A few regular North Vietnamese regiments, renumbered to encourage the fiction they were separate entities, were functioning in South Viet Nam by 1963. The infiltrating regular force is much larger now.

• The National Liberation Front, proclaimed Dec. 20, 1960 is patently a Hanoi facade, so lightly regarded by Red leader Ho Chi Minh that no more than 30 of the 82 Front posts have ever been filled.

Nam People's Party" was established by the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. But 12 days before first announcement of marked again, are learning of once more that the country pays attention to their exhibitions but not to their arguments.

• The kindly North Vietnamese, who so often are represented by the protesters as offering the suffering South Vietnamese people marvelous programs of reform, are estimated by one cautious historian to have executed 50,000 North Vietnamese peasants and sent another 100,000 to forced labor camps in pursuing land reform north of the 17th parallel.

• The Viet Cong, those heralded promoters of good will among the South Vietnamese peasantry, have killed or kidnapped upwards of 20,000 South Vietnamese village chiefs, teachers, medical and agricultural helpers and youth leaders to destroy the working fabric of the land they seek to win.

• However many of the South Vietnamese people the Viet Cong may have enlisted in their cause through persuasion, mild coercion or outright systematic terror, the entire enterprise has strong marks of a "contrived revolution."

Without some support from the South Vietnamese, the effort at conquest might speedily have failed. But there is every evidence, from the public avowals of Ho Chi Minh and his military leaders, that the effort would have been made in any event. He declared his intent before he had the faintest idea what sort of government Saigon would build after the Geneva Accords.

There are countless other points to be made, all of them at odds with the protesters' cherished fancy that the Vietnamese struggle is a spontaneous native uprising cruelly interrupted and frustrated by the United States.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D's bus breaks through a frozen lake at the bottom of a cliff in Santa Claus Land. A strange monster lifts the broken bus and its occupants out of the lake.

CHAPTER SIX
THE FABULOUS
DUNKLEBUM

"Hooray! We're safe!" cried the little lost boy as the shining monster deposited the bus on dry land.

The crocodile shook her head admiringly. She said she had never met so strong and brave a creature as the monster and if she had not been so ugly she would have kissed him to show her gratitude.

Lights all along the beast's arms blinked and fluttered with embarrassment. "I am ugly myself," he said. "As you can plainly see."

Well, he certainly wasn't handsome. He had a flat mushy face like a smashed-in tomato. He was fat and stooped and his many glittering arms hung from his shoulders like willow tree branches.

"What are you?" gasped Mr. D, striving with all his might to see out of his poor crossed eyes.

"I'm the friendless Fabulous Dunklebum," said the creature in his tiny squeaky voice. "I'm the only one of my kind. I've lived all my life at the bottom of this cliff, where I can hide my lights in a cave so I won't frighten anyone."

"I think you are gorgeous," said the crocodile, trying to hide her missing teeth.

"You have magic, too," said the donkey. "Those lights are very magical. In fact I think you have more magic than anyone I've ever seen."

"Except the Voodoo man!" exclaimed the little boy. "And now the Voodoo man is going to get Santa Claus!"

Mr. D shook his head. "Not yet. We can still get there in time. We may fix the bus by the light of the Fabulous Dunklebum!"

He told the creature of the Voodoo man, who was off to cast a spell over Santa Land. The Fabulous Dunklebum turned on all his lights as high as they would go. They lit up the whole mountainside.

Mr. D got out his tool box. It was filled with bobby pins and rubber bands and finger-nail files and chewing gum that Mr. D had used to repair the bus a hundred times before. They found the two missing wheels and hammered them back on with the crocodile's tail. They piled open the radiator and the donkey stomped on the twisted pipes until they were straight. They fastened on the bent and broken fenders with bandage strips.

"She's good as new!" said Mr. D finally.

"Oh, hurry, hurry!" cried the little boy. "Let's go!"

They said goodbye to the Fabulous Dunklebum and thanked him for all he'd done. Then they all got on the bus and Mr. D started her up. The engine gave one gasp and quit. There wasn't any gas. It had leaked out of the punctured tank.

Mr. D groaned. The Zabbazara bus was useless. They would never get to Santa before the Voodoo man, and Santa Land would go under a spell forever.

But even as Mr. D groaned, he felt the bus jerk. The little boy cried, "He's carrying us in his long swinging arms and was carrying it slowly up the steep mountainside."

Mr. D got out his tool box to fix the broken bus.

Sure enough, the Fabulous Dunklebum had lifted the bus Tomorrow: Santa Land

Finding The Way

Burning Or Freezing?

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Suddenly the words of Scripture have new meaning: In that famous poem concerning love, St. Peter wrote, "Though I give my body to be burned, and have not love, I have gained nothing." Now we are confronted with the self-immolation of men in our own midst. They choose this cruel way to state their case.

It's easy to condemn these acts which seem incredible and irrational. It's really a time to judge ourselves. There is always the need to discover the right ways to express our faith.

Brave men are fighting in Viet Nam, risking their lives because of their citizenship. Other courageous men are attempting to find the ways through the United Nations whereby the whole bloody conflict can be solved.

It requires bravery to really love and to give one's self to reconciliation. It requires bravery to think this out realistically in the midst of the difficult realities that require prophetic witness and burning righteousness. It's bravery that is demanded of people who too frequently burn out their energies over pettiness or who cremate the possibilities for ever handling the issues.

We don't need men burning themselves to death. Likewise, we don't need people allowing their concern for their country to freeze to death.

Robert Frost states the case bluntly:

"Some say the world will end in fire,
Some say in ice.
From what I've tasted of desire,
I hold with those who favor fire.
But if I had to perish twice,
I think I know enough of hate
To say that for destruction
Ice is also great
And would suffice."

Either we burn with love or freeze with apathy. Either we speak with tongues of fire or a hatred which creates a moral arson. Either we are warm-hearted, speaking with a sense of reconciling healing or we lure ourselves and others to self destruction. Either we tackle the issue of how to love now or we could even give our bodies to be burned and gain nothing. "For love is patient and kind; love is not jealous or boastful; it is not arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrong, but rejoices in all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things." Only those who are set on fire with that quality of love can tackle the tough issues of today.

Ann Landers

Falsie Pops At Convention

Dear Ann Landers: Your column has provided me with many a good chuckle these last several years and now I'm going to give you one.

The letter from the woman who complained about the $2.00 falsies floating to the top of the swimming pool reminded me of one of the most unforgettable experiences of my life.

Many years ago I attended a convention where all those ladies wear silk dresses with floral patterns and big hats. My best friend's aunt was being installed as president. This was back in the days when falsies were inflatable, like balloons. Well, the outgoing president made a gushy speech and closed with: "It is an honor for me to present you with this corsage as a token of esteem and affection." She then proceeded to pin it on the incoming president.

You guessed it, BANG went the balloon and half of her dimensions changed right there in front of 2,000 people.

Naturally this was the highlight of the convention and it was a topic of conversation for several years. So be thankful for foam rubber, girls. — NO TOWN FOR GOSH SHAKES.

Dear No Town: If you ever hear of a contest for the most embarrassing moment, that woman has first prize right in her pocket. (And I hope it's not a medal.)

Charles Chaplin at the Grand theatre tomorrow night.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's little sister, Cora (age 14) spent the month of July with us. We drove 1,000 miles to pick her up so she wouldn't have to travel alone. Her parents came to get her, spent three days, and brought along their son, his fiancée and their niece.

At this last writing I have not had a line from any of them. Last week my mother-in-law called about another matter and closed with this: "Thank heavens Cora is talking normally again. She drove us crazy for weeks with that revolting southern accent she picked up from you and your friends."

Both my husband and I are very hurt that not one of them has written to say thanks. I don't want a family feud. Shall I make an issue of this or ignore it? — ICE IN THE SOUTH

Dear Ice: A 14-year-old girl who doesn't know enough to write a thank you letter after visiting for a month in your home is so pathetically cloddish

Skiers may be cold on the snowy slopes, but the bonesetters are just warming up.

It's an ill wind that blows none of your leaves off your lawn over onto your neighbor's.

Problem

EAST LANSING—With hog prices the highest they've been in years, Southern Michigan swine raisers still face problems. Their hogs refuse to eat the new crop corn. "We think the cause is one of the many molds that is prevalent in corn this year," says E. C. Miller, swine specialist of Michigan State University. "Apparently the mold gives the feed a taste or odor the hogs don't like, so they refuse to eat."

AMADO YATACO, a native of Lima, Peru, 27, and married, is attending Michigan Tech. Houghton, on a fellowship from the World Health Organization, a division of the United Nations. Yataco is a graduate of the National University of Engineering in Lima, but it does not offer course work in mining ventilation or mine safety.

Sales Tax Table To Aid Residents On U.S. Returns

DETROIT — Taxpayers in Michigan may use the state sales tax as a guideline when preparing their 1965 federal income tax returns. For the first time since it was introduced in 1960, the table has been printed in the tax instructions which are mailed to taxpayers, District Director A. M. Stoeppler of Internal Revenue said. The table is based on a 1960-61 study of consumer spending patterns by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and shows the average amount of state sales tax paid by Michigan residents. The table may be used by taxpayers who itemize their federal income tax deductions. Similar tables have been prepared for 39 other states and the District of Columbia. The table omits the state sales tax on automobiles purchased. Taxpayers who purchase an automobile may add the sales taxes paid on the purchase to the amount shown in the table. Stoeppler reminded taxpayers that they are not required to use the table. The table is furnished as a guide for the convenience of taxpayers who itemize deductions on their federal income tax returns but who wish to use a "standard" amount for state sales tax which will not require detailed substantiation. Taxpayers have the choice, of course, of deducting the actual amount of state sales taxes paid, he said.

Rock 4-H Club Will Print Monthly Paper

The Rock 4-H Club voted to print a monthly 4-H newspaper for the first time in the history of the club. Co-editors will be junior leaders, Sally Waak and Nancy Weldum. A sample copy had been made up by Nancy and Mrs. Weldum and given to each member. This paper would keep parents informed of what members are doing and also would be a record for each member to keep. The paper has not been named yet. Leaders and members may submit names to secretary Sally Waak, and a name will be chosen at the next meeting. Members will take part in writing news for each issue.

Mrs. Weldum presented the club with a National 4-H Community Beautification Program Certificate which the club received for its part in community improvement. This award is provided by the Sears Roebuck foundation.

Mike Yankee received a county pin for the electrical program and Christine Mankiewicz for gardening. Each member was given a 4-H calendar. They are sponsored by the State Bank of Escanaba.

Members voted to have the club purchase officers pins. A report on the razors and tablecloths showed that over half are sold. Anyone wishing to purchase one may contact any 4-H member.

A Christmas program was presented after the meeting. Annette Kulack acted as master of ceremonies and carols were sung and gifts exchanged. Priscilla Waak led the games. Sandwiches and cookies and chocolate milk were served.

Members will meet at the clubhouse Monday after school to make a gift for Christmas to be used in the home as a decoration. Items to chose from were displayed.

Christmas Party Is Enjoyed By Fellowship

A gala Christmas party was held Wednesday for the Women's Fellowship of Rapid River's Congregational Church. A dove of peace arrangement, originally designed by Mrs. Leslie Caswell, centered the serving table. The dining tables were accented by individual Christmas scenes depicting the holiday season.

The evening program began with group games followed by individual readings and a musical number. Mrs. Charles Bowen began the entertainment with a Christmas poem, Mrs. Harvey Deneau and Mrs. Charlotte Rushford sang, "Silent Night", piano accompaniment by Lavina Moss, a humorous reading entitled, "The Ship", was presented by Mrs. Thomas Safford. The evening closed with a gift exchange and an attractive buffet lunch.

A short business meeting preceded the party. The Fellowship will serve the Christmas party meal for Rapid River Volunteer Firemen Saturday, Dec. 18. Mrs. Esther Caswell was named chairman for the Christmas baskets which will be packed Monday, Dec. 20. Anyone wishing to donate to the basket project is asked to have their donations at the church before Monday, Dec. 20.

BIG SAVINGS

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

In addition to their regular season schedules and the post season district and regional tournaments, many Upper Peninsula high school basketball teams will be competing in holiday tournaments this year. The Porcupine Mountain Conference stages such a tournament each year and the Big Seven Conference inaugurated one last season with Powers-Spalding as the host school. This year's tourney will be played at the Dickinson County Armory in Kingsford.

Also getting into the act this season will be five members of the Central League and three non-league schools. The eight quints will play a holiday tournament at Eben High School's Veterans Memorial Gymnasium Dec. 27, 28 and 30. Competing will be Rock, Garden, Perkins, Cooks and Eben of the Central League in addition to Marquette, Bishop Baraga, National Mine and Republic.

Coach Bruce Warren's Trout Creek Anglers smashed the all time Upper Peninsula single game scoring record this week when they crushed Watersmeet, 134-50, in a Porcupine Mountain Conference game at Trout Creek. The former record was 123 points, established by Garden in the final game of the 1957-58 season against Paradise. Bob Gale paced the Anglers with 18 field goals and seven free throws for 43 points while five other Trout Creek players reached double scoring figures.

Bark River's Ron Sharkey became the season's top single game point producer with his blistering bucket barrage against Perkins this week. The 5 foot 9 inch senior guard was a whirlwind as he intercepted passes and snatched the ball from dribblers for a variety of driving layups that produced 17 field goals. He also clicked on 12 of 16 chances from the free throw line for his game total of 46 points.

Former Escanaba athlete Ken Seibert contributed seven points for Michigan Tech as the Huskies bowed to Northland College in Ashland by a 92-77 margin this week. Michigan Tech is idle through the holiday season, returning to action Jan. 7.

Eagles Edge Marine Five

MARINETTE — A freak used only five players, was led by Bob Peterson with 15 and Stephenson the opportunity to run its unbeaten string to four games with a 45-44 victory over the Marquette Marines. Trailing by one point with 16 seconds to go, Coach Guss Lord's Eagles played for one shot and missed, Clark Boren rebounded for Marquette, but in an effort to clear a pass downcourt as he was falling out of bounds hit the lower rim of Stephenson's basket. Irving Kranberg grabbed the ball and fired the winning goal.

The Eagles, who lead by as much as five points throughout most of the second half, lost the lead with less than three minutes to play. The teams traded advantages in the final 90 seconds, until Kranberg's game-winning basket. Dave Bishop paced Stephenson with 14 points. Marquette, who

Little Giants Topple Nahma For 2-2 Record

ROCK — The Rock Little Giants captured their second victory in four starts here Friday night, nailing Nahma with a 58-41 setback in Central League action.

Coach Gene DeKeyser's cagers broke out of a 22-21 half-time deficit to pump 21 points home in the third quarter. John Norden and Larry Lippens scored 11 of those points and Pat Dube added four.

Leading 42-29 entering the final quarter, the Little Giants played out the game with reserves. Lippens and Norden paced the winners with 17 points apiece while Rick Schaffer hit 12 for Nahma.

canned five of six shots from the line but he was the only Escanaba player to connect. The remainder of the Eskymos missed nine straight opportunities.

In addition, Ishpeming outscored the Eskymos by two field goals, 26 to 24.

The Eskymos took control of the game in the first quarter in which they built a 16-13 lead, but Ishpeming recovered to pull out to a 35-32 lead at the half and spread the margin to 54-44 entering the finale.

Both teams showed the effects of the torrid pace in the final quarter in which the Hematites had a slim 10-9 edge.

The Eskymos had trouble handling the ball against Ishpeming. Coach Harold Johnson's cagers were charged with 12 bad passes and bobbled the ball in seven other handling situations.

From the field, the Eskymos hit on 24 of 64 shots for 37 per cent while Ishpeming connected on 26 of 74 for 35.

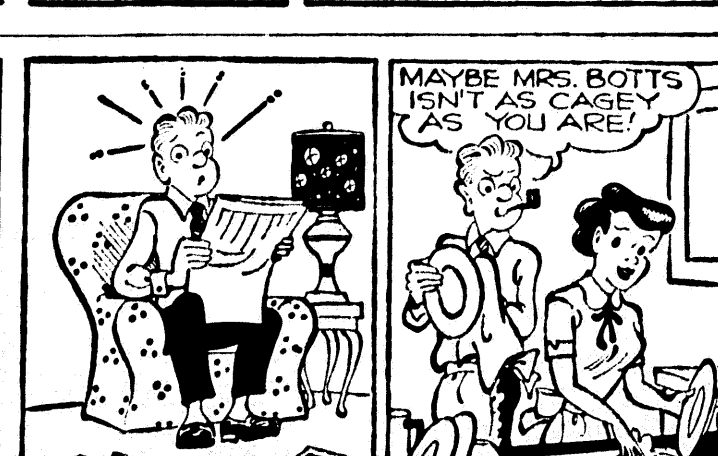

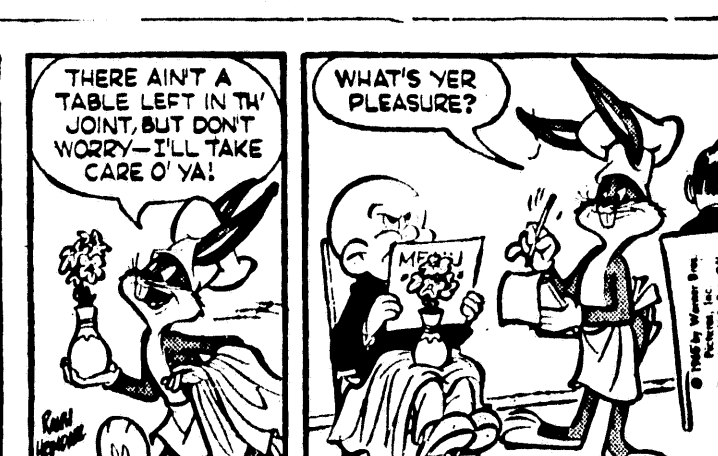

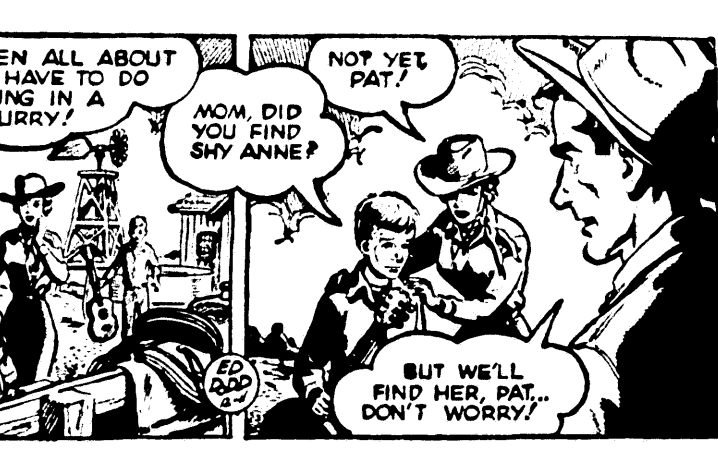

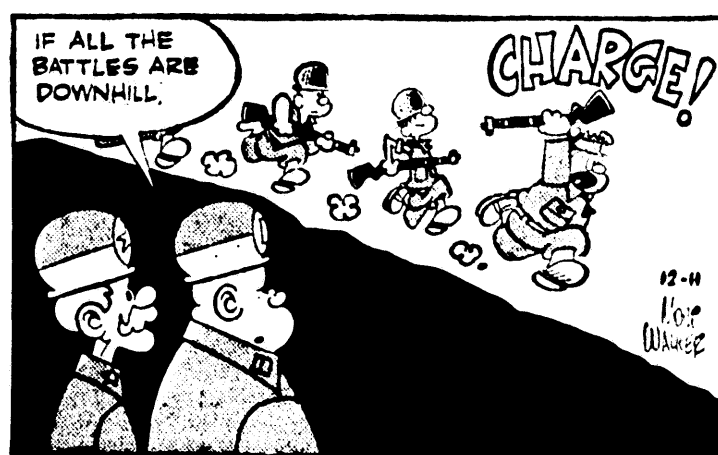

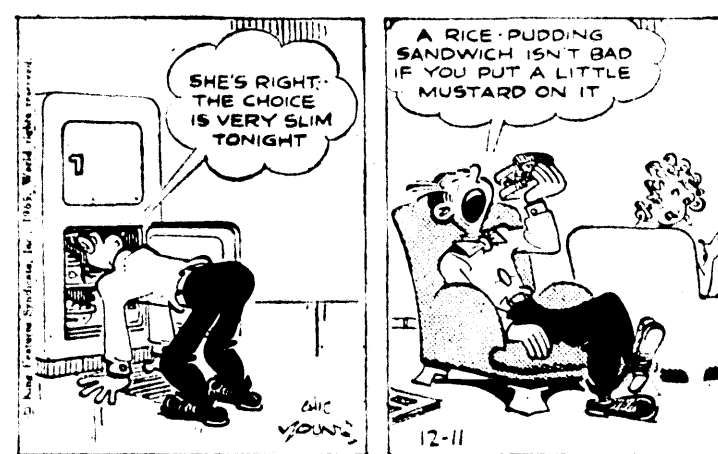

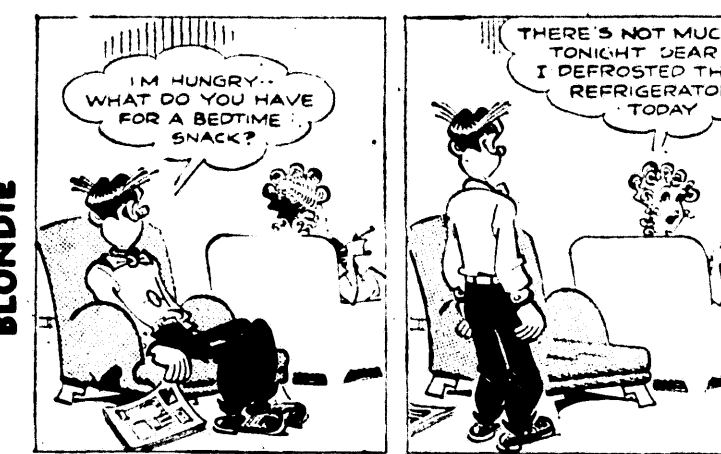

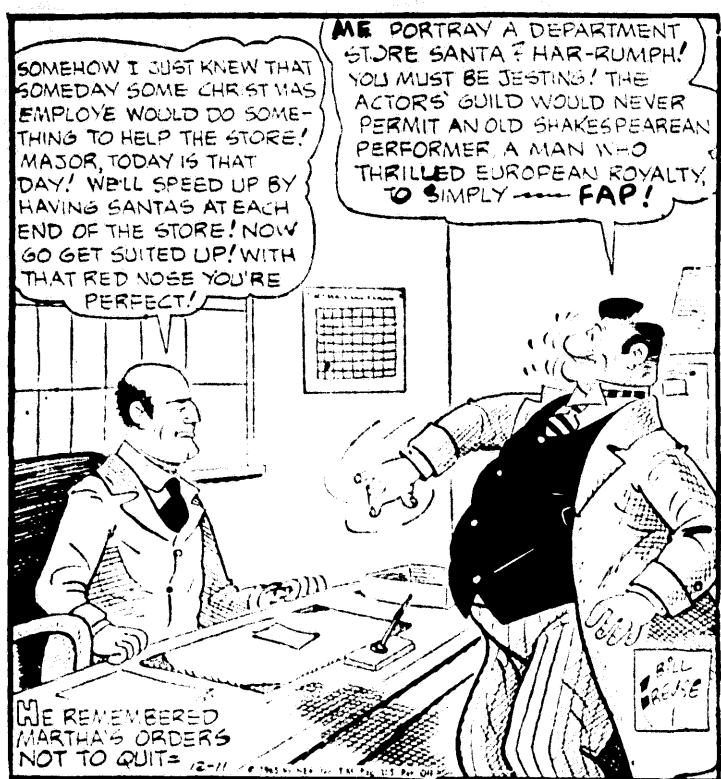

Escanaba had a 40 to 33 edge in rebounds with Nyquist pulling down 19.

Junior forward Paul Miller paced the Eskymos with 18 points while Rick Kutchenberg added 12 and

NOTICE

Many listings in the "Male" or "Female" columns are not intended to exclude or discourage applications from persons of the other sex. Such listings may be used because some occupations are considered more attractive to persons of one sex than the other. Discrimination in employment based on sex is prohibited by the 1964 Federal Civil Rights Act with certain exceptions (and by the law of Michigan). Employment agencies and employers covered by the Act must indicate in their advertisement whether or not the listed positions are available to both sexes.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

PROBABLY COMING DOWN WITH SOMETHING!

Even a frown can worry Mother. And when he has a fever—she always fears the worst!

Did you know, Mother, that more children fall victim to spiritual neglect than any of the crippling diseases we dread? It has wrecked the fond hopes and bold dreams of hundreds of thousands of parents.

Yet it isn't a disease, at all!

It is a HESITATION; hesitating to start our child in Church School, hesitating to go with him and worship God, hesitating to discuss at home the need for moral and religious foundation for the whole family.

Face it today! Do something about it next Sunday! Choose YOUR church. And make it YOUR church. And through a lifetime of worship and faith it can be for your child... HIS church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
